The Story of Commencement

Commencement in 1934 was known as "The Centennial Forecast," and there was an undercurrent of anticipation in all the events of the season. Only two commencements away is Wesleyan's hundredth birthday!

THE REUNION CLASS BANQUET

The 1934 Commencement season began for the alumnae with a new feature—the Reunion Banquet in the college dining room at Rivoli on Friday night. The plans for this banquet began modestly; the small faculty dining room was to be used for the occasion and it was thought that 100 guests would be present. Invitations were extended to all alumnae, with the twelve reunion classes as honor guests, and by Wednesday it was clear that the faculty dining room was far too small! In the end we made some lightning changes in plans and table decorations, and filled the large college dining room, with over 200 alumnae for a most enjoyable evening!

The reunion classes sat at special tables marked with their class colors. The class of 1886 was presented with the silver loving cup for having the largest per cent. of living members present; 12 members or 34 per cent. This class has had the same class secretary since their graduation, Kate Neal, of Atlanta, who keeps in touch with every one of them, wherever they live, Switzerland, Indian Territory—no matter where! The class of 1888 came second in the contest with 18 per cent present, and there was a tie for third place between the oldest and youngest classes holding reunions, 1885 and 1926. The class of '26 had, in fact, the largest number present at the banquet—twenty!

Class Skits

Martha Cooper, A.B., '31, was toastmistress. The three "skits" by reunion class groups furnished a variety of entertainment. The classes of the 1880's gave a delightful picture of college life in their day through an essay by Annie (Cargill) Cook of '85 and a poem "The April Fool Picnic" by Richard Findlay, read by Mattie (O'Daniel) Smith of '86.

The 1904-1907 group gave a peppy "History of the Class Colors," marching in with vari-colored banners and giving their class songs and yells. Helen (Roberts) Ross, of 1904, was in charge of this feature of the program.

Mrs. Florrie C. White, who came to Wesleyan in 1905 as matron, and has served it ever since, being now superintendent of the infirmary, was introduced with this group.

The 1923-'26 group gave a "Style Show of the Twenties," with clever lines written by Rebekah (Oliphant) Anthony of '23, and screamingly funny evening dresses, sports clothes, and street clothes of the period.

Presentation of Relics

One of the most interesting features of the program was the presentation of the souvenirs of old Wesleyan days which are listed elsewhere in the magazine. Alice (Burden) Domingos accepted the gifts on behalf of her mother, Minnie (Bass) Burden of the class of '74, vice-president in charge of historical material. Little Anne McKay, daughter of Frances (Peabody) McKay, of '25, a reunion class, and granddaughter of Annie (Anderson) McKay of '85 and of Mary (Hitch) Peabody of '95, presented a newspaper of 1859 for Annie (Anderson) McKay. She was dressed in an old-fashioned costume similar to one worn by her grandmother as a child.

Great-Granddaughters of First Graduate

Two charming little girls in their early teens, both great great granddaughters of Catherine E. (Brewer) Benson, Wesleyan's first graduate, were introduced at the banquet. One bears the full name of her grandmother, Catherine Benson, the daughter of

Frank L. and Agnes Moody Benson; the other is Lora Phyllis Smith, the daughter of Phillip J. and Lora Benson Smith. Phillis' mother accompanied the little girls.

The Night-Gown Parade

The banquet ended close to midnight very appropriately with a "night-gown parade" in which were displayed many beautiful and historically interesting night-gowns, some of them more than 100 years old. Alleen (Poer) Hinton, president of the Alumnae Association, had the idea for this unusual feature of the program and secured from alumnae and friends the old gowns, some with tucks and frills, some with elaborately embroidered panels, some with trains trailing the floor behind, some almost to the knees in length. To the tune of "Good Night, Ladies" the procession of alumnae wearing the night-gowns paraded onto the little stage that had been placed in the dining room, and out again, bringing to a close the first "Reunion Class Banquet."

Additions to the Historical Collection

At the Reunion Banquet Friday evening of commencement, many interesting things were given to the Wesleyan Historical Collection as the alumnae saw in anticipation the centennial celebration of their Alma Mater which is so close at hand.

At Commencement, and during the past year, we have received:

A copy of "The Daily Federal Union," December 14, 1859, a newspaper published in Milledgeville when this was the capitol of Georgia, presented by Annie (Anderson) McKay, A.B., '87.

Programs of 1903, 1905 and 1906, presented by Margie Burks, A.B., '05.

Poster announcing a sale of negroes, mules, hogs, etc., dated August 14, 1860, presented by Mr. Felix Hargrett, a friend.

Envelope mailed from Wesleyan in Civil War days, bearing the Wesleyan Female College seal on the back, presented by Mr. Hargrett.

A Wesleyan girl's laundry list of 1860, with the printed notation that "in case of loss, the owner of the washerwoman will be held responsible," presented by Mr. Lester Hargrett, a friend.

Photographic copy of diploma of Anne Eliza Burkhalter, A.B., 1851, presented by her son, O. B. Colquitt.

Constitution and By-Laws of first Student Government Association, copy of first Thanksgiving Banquet program, Senior Day May Festival program, presented by Jennie Loyall, A.B., '12.

Catalog of 1862-'63, presented by Corrie Mims, daughter of Rebecca A. (Carter) Mims whose name appears in the "First Class." Secured for Wesleyan by Mary Rix (Bryan) Lawrence of '93.

Report of Mary Jane (Broome) Guinn of class of 1848, presented by Mrs. R. M. Young, daughter of Mrs. Guinn, through Mary (Park) Polhill, A.B., '01.

Booklet inscribed "To the Alumnae of Wesleyan Female College," with verses by President W. B. Bonnell in 1897, presented by Lucy (Evans) Stephens.

Report of Sallie Sessions for March 31, 1884, presented by Mrs. George D. Anderson of Marietta whose two daughters, Jeanette and Carolyn, are Wesleyan alumnae.

Photograph of Maria Louise (Brantley) Lathrop, A.B., 1853, and her commencement badge, presented by her niece, Louise Lathrop of Decatur.

Commencement badge, 1892; Junior Essay; Senior Essay; Medal for Drawing; Medal for Penmanship; Wesleyan catalog, 1889-'90; Commencement program, presented by Maude Hill, A.B., '92.

"A Manual of Music," presented to library by Birdie Blackshear, class '92.

"The Vocalist," music book, presented to library by Mary Blackshear.

Wesleyan Hymn and Tune Book; graduation composition of Delia M. Roberts, 1864; programs, presented by Lillian (Solomon) Roberts, A.B., '75.

Programs, 1901 and 1902, presented by Helen (Roberts) Ross, A.B., '04.

"The Wesleyan," May, 1908; commencement invitation, presented by Mattie (Adams) Buchanan, A.B., '08.

Matriculation card, 1903; Programs, 1905; class banners; class picture, 1905; commencement invitation, presented by Ophelia (Smith) Guerry, A.B., '05.

Program of Dinner for Admiral Benson and newspaper clippings about this occasion, presented by Ida (Mangham) Coleman, A.B., '90.

Tribute to Bishop Pierce, 1884, presented by M. Kate Neal, A.B., '86.

Macon County History, presented to library by author, Louise (Frederick) Hays, A.B., 1900.

Autograph Album, and badge of her sister,

Clara, 1886, presented by Annie Burghard, A.B., '79.

"Keepsake Album" in which is inscribed a sentiment by Sidney Lanier in his own handwriting, presented to the library by Anthony Fitzgerald Lucas, grandson of the owner, Louisa M. Weed.

Installation of the Class of 1934

Always one of the most beautiful ceremonies of Commencement, the installation of the senior class into the Alumnae Association was especially inspiring this year in the old chapel building at Wesleyan Conservatory.

The seniors of the college in their black caps and gowns and those of the conservatory in contrasting white dresses, marched the length of the chapel to the strains of the organ, played by Mrs. Albert Jelks of the Conservatory faculty. They lighted their candles at the four tapers held by four of Wesleyan's honored alumnae, Minnie (Bass)

Burden, Fannie (Stevens) Dessau, Bessie (Reid) Napier, and Lillian (Roberts) Solomon.

Alleen (Poer) Hinton, president of the Alumnae Association, welcomed the classes into the Alumnae Association. Sarah Jones of Columbus, president of the college seniors, and Fay Petrea of Columbus, president of the conservatory seniors, responded with pledges of loyalty for their classes.

The ceremony closed with the singing of the Alma Mater, the seniors grouped on the stage with lighted candles.

Marshals and Pages

The commencement marshals, selected each year from the outstanding girls in the junior class, assisted in welcoming the alumnae guests. They were: Mary Seabrook Smith, Atlanta; Helen Smart, Emory University; Dorothy Beall, Macon; Charlotte Joyner, Macon; Elizabeth Stayer New, Macon; Eleanor Anthony, South Orange, N. J.; Louise Page, Spartanburg, S. C.; Dorothy Tinsley, Macon; Louise Caldwell, Alva; Ruth Renfro, Macon; Elizabeth Moseley, Union Springs, Ala.; Elizabeth Baldwin, Macon; Mary Jenkins, Blundale; Margaret Munroe, Quincy, Fla.; Avis Moate, Devereux; Thalia Johnson, Lake Wales, Fla.; Lois Newsome, Reynolds; Mary Dozier, Macon.

The pages for the commencement meeting of the alumnae Saturday morning were all close relatives of alumnae in the reunion classes. They were: Anne Richardson, daughter of Anne (Shaw) Richardson; Helen Crump, daughter of Jennie (Riley) Crump; Annie Holmes, granddaughter of Annie (Anderson) McKay; Carolyn Bell, sister of Margaret and Alberta Bell; and Camille Roberts, daughter of Camille (Lamar) Roberts.

Alumnae Garden Party

The Garden Party Saturday afternoon on the campus at Rivoli honored the retiring alumnae trustee of Wesleyan, Annie (Bates) Haden.

The guests assembled in the student parlors of the college for an informal exhibit of the Art Collection received this year from contemporary American artists.

Following this, they gathered in the "Memory Garden," a beautiful spot between the dormitory buildings where this year 1500 boxwood plants have been set out by the alumnae under the chairmanship of Octavia (Burden) Stewart.

Lucia (Chappell) Domingos, newly elected president of the Macon Alumnae Club, gave a talk on "Visions of the Future." Nannette (Carter) Smith read Sidney Lanier's "Gospel of the Trees."

Octavia (Burden) Stewart formally presented the Memory Garden, which was accepted for the college by President D. R. Anderson.

The Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae Club of Ma-

Frank L. and Agnes Moody Benson; the other is Lora Phyllis Smith, the daughter of Phillip J. and Lora Benson Smith. Phillis' mother accompanied the little girls.

Octavia (Burden) Stewart formally presented the Memory Garden, which was accepted for the college by President D. R. Anderson.

The Alpha Delta Pi Alumnae Club of Macon presented a holly tree which they planted this year on the campus near the science building. The holly is marked by a bronze tablet which bears the inscription, "1851, Adelphean. Alpha Alumnae Chapter, Alpha Delta Pi, Macon, 1934." Minnie (Bass) Burden, oldest Adelphean alumna in Macon, presented the tree, which is the first of the holly trees to be placed on the Wesleyan campus, all of them to be the gift of this sorority. The club held a brief meeting before the Garden Party, under the leadership of Pearl (Napier) O'Daniel, president.

Polly (Pierce) Corn was in charge of the tea. She was assisted by Martha (Riley) Holliday, Annie (Gantt) Anderson, Cornelia (Adams) Heath, Helen (Cater) Farmer, and Kitty (Cater) Jones.

The Art Collection

Resolutions of appreciation from the Wesleyan Alumnae Association to each of the artists who have this year contributed representative pieces of their work to Wesleyan through the influence of Helen E. (Ogden) Campbell were read at the annual business meeting by Ida (Manghum) Coleman.

The total value of the collection to date exceeds $4,000, and includes the following pieces:

Wayman Adams — Lithograph, "The Hymn."

Charles A. Aiken—Water Color, "The Mapolica Jug."

A. J. Barnouw—Pastel, "Chief Weasel Feathers."

Louis F. Berkner—Oil, "Emily."

Maude F. Berkner—Oil, "The Red Bowl."

Harriette Bowdoin—Oil, "The Fountain."

Anne Braithwaite—Sketch, "Candace."

Gladys Brannigan—Water Color, "On a Southern Plantation."

Berta N. Briggs—Water Color, "The Church at St. Michel."

Ruth Payne Burgess—Oil, "The Old Carving."

Charles C. Curran—Oil, "Hillside, Mt. Vernon."

George Pearse Ennis — Water Color, "Moonlight."

Harriet Frishmuth—Sculpture, "Fantasie."

Harry L. Hoffman — Oil, "Along the Sponge Quays, Bahamas."

Bonnie MacLeary—Sculpture, "My Lady Sleeps."

Jane Peterson—Oil, "Bowl of Zinnias."

Helen Sähler—Scripture, "The Spirit of Revolt."

Gustav Wiegand—Oil, "Clinging Mists."

The Macon Club Scholarships

For the second time the Wesleyan Alumnae Club of Macon awarded scholarships to Wesleyan to seniors of Miller High School. One full-tuition scholarship of $230, two $50 scholarships, and one $100 scholarship to the conservatory were awarded to the following girls:

Helen Jones, great-niece of Mattie (Bowman) Howard of the class of '76, cousin of Florence (Howard) Domingos, Sadie (Howard) Cheatham, and Martha (Howard) Balkcom. Helen was president of the senior class of Miller, and was awarded the silver loving cup offered to the best-all-round student in the class.

Frances Houser, niece and adopted daughter of Nora (Taylor) Houser, of the class of 1909. She was awarded first place in a statewide editorial contest this spring. She has taken leading parts in high school plays.

Marion Waxelbaum, daughter of Mrs. I. L. Waxelbaum, president of the Macon Woman's Club. Marion won first place among the Miller High contestants in the Historical Essay Contest, her essay being "Pro Amore de Patria," or Noble Wimberly Jones. She is a member of the high school Glee Club.

Rosa Israel, president of the Miller High Glee Club, and talented in music, was awarded the $100 scholarship to Wesleyan Conservatory.

Kathleen (Harper) Jacques made the presentation of these scholarships at the annual Recognition Day exercises at the high school in June.

New Trustees

Annabel Horn of Atlanta, A.B., '06, was elected Alumnae Trustee to succeed Annie (Bates) Haden, A.B., '88, whose term expired this commencement.

Other changes in the Board of Trustees are: George E. Clary, Macon, succeeds Rev. J. A. Thomas, Montezuma, whose term expired; Miller S. Bell of Milledgeville, to succeed Judge H. W. Hill of Atlanta who died this year; Rev. W. S. Robinson of College Park, to succeed Rev. J. W. Quillian of Augusta, who died in May of this year; G. A. Gray, secretary of state of Florida, to succeed F. D. Jackson, Tampa, whose term expired.

Clubs

Alleen (Poer) Hinton, president of the national Alumnae Association of Wesleyan, entertained all representatives of Wesleyan clubs who were back for commencement with a delightful luncheon at her home in Macon Saturday, May 26th.

ATLANTA

Robert (Graham) Warner, president of the Atlanta Wesleyan Club, was present Commencement and made a splendid report of the year's activities. The five groups of the Atlanta Club held interesting meetings during the year, Group IV, with Clara Bond (Farrar) Wilson as chairman, winning the silver loving cup for the best work. Several benefits, among them a travelog by Mrs. Warner, were reported. The club sponsored entertainments of high school girls and Atlanta had 150 high school seniors at Wesleyan for Dormitory Day. The Atlanta Club is giving a Wesleyan scholarship.

BRUNSWICK

The Brunswick Club, with Lucile Pierce as president, sponsored a performance of The Passion Play, entertained members of the Wesleyan faculty who attended the South Georgia Conference in Brunswick, held interesting meetings. They also entertained high school girls.

CARTERSVILLE

Cartersville, under the presidency of Gladys (Bray) Hamrick, put on a most successful "Style Show," displaying, not only modern dresses but costumes of the past. The publicity which has come to the Alumnae Office since the performance is delightful. A staff photographer from the Atlanta Journal was on hand for the occasion. The Cartersville Club is giving a Wesleyan scholarship.

COLUMBUS

The Columbus Club, under Elizabeth Neal Rogers, has held regular and interesting meetings, entertained high school girls and had 15 Columbus seniors at Wesleyan on Dormitory Day, had sponsored a "cake market," a silver tea and a musicale. They are giving a Wesleyan scholarship to the Columbus girl who won second place in the state historical essay contest, Carol Simmons. The new president of the club is Frances (Callahan) Belk, A.B., '25.

LAGRANGE

The LaGrange Club, under Mary (Park) Polhill, has had regular meetings, and has done good work in keeping Wesleyan before the high school girls. There were three LaGrange girls at Wesleyan the past year.

MACON

The Macon Club this year sponsored a series of lectures by the Wesleyan faculty, attended by hundreds of Macon people, a successful fore-runner of the Wesleyan summer school. They sponsored also a puppet show, and an "April Fool Frolic" to make money for their four scholarships given to Miller High School graduates. The Macon club entertained Miller High School girls at a wiener roast at the college in the spring. Lucia (Chappell) Domingos is the new president of the club.

MARSHALLVILLE

The Marshallville Club, under Ruth (Whiting) Haslam who was present Commencement to represent the club, won the silver loving cup for the best work during the year. Judges took into consideration in awarding the cup the opportunities for service, the age and size of the club. Marshallville, during only one year, has had several benefits, offers a Wesleyan scholarship of $50.00, has interested high school girls in the college, has had a number of good meetings with excellent newspaper publicity.

SAVANNAH

Savannah, under Reba Bridger, held seven regular meetings this year, with excellent programs, Annie Edwards being chairman of the program committee. A tea was given for high school girls at which Dr. and Mrs. Anderson and Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Jenkins were special guests. The club also arranged for Dr. Anderson to speak at Pape School and to have charge of Wesley Monumental and Epworth Church services.

Catherine Rourk, chairman of scholarships, posted on the high school bulletin board, the Wesleyan Scholarship material. The club held a benefit and offers a partial scholarship to Wesleyan. The new president of the club is Mary Maude (Gibson) Oppenheimer.

THOMASVILLE

Thomasville, under Flewellyn (Strong) Flowers, with a membership of twenty-five, has sent in since May, 1933, $150 to the Wesleyan Emergency Campaign, their voluntary pledge. They have the nucleus of a scholarship fund for Wesleyan.

TIFTON

Tifton entertained Jennie Loyall and Alleen (Poer) Hinton during the past year at a meeting of the club. They had two representatives at commencement, Harriet (Evans) Southwell and Vo Hammie (Pharr) Carr, both of the class of '25.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

A Wesleyan Club was organized in Jacksonville this spring with Annette (White) King as president, Mary Miller as secretary and treasurer, and Isabelle Richter as publicity chairman. There have been three meetings of the club, including a tea given for the high school graduates.

MIAMI, FLA.

The Miami Club, under Mary Edna (Dowling) Leonardi, meets the first Saturday of every month from October through June. During the past year they had two successful benefits, entertained prospective Wesleyan students, and entertained the Wesleyan representative.

HAVANA, CUBA

Kathleen (Holder) Griffin, vice-president in charge of clubs, visited the Havana Club.

ST. PETERSBURG, FLA.

The St. Petersburg, Fla., club was organized in April of last year with Elizabeth (Coates) James as president. Monthly luncheons are held the fourth Saturday in each month at one of the local tea-rooms.
